

TBC's Recommendations for Learning and Action on Orange Shirt Day

Our call to non-Indigenous people and communities, especially white settlers and others who benefit from these lands, is to continue our own learning. As we learn, let's put our learnings into action. Let's listen for Indigenous people and communities' specific asks, and respond to their calls.

Here are some ideas for learning and action. There are a lifetime's worth of resources out there, so please make this a long-term commitment, going beyond this day and this week:
